

We will use the guest player roster form posted on the home page of the FWR League to list guest players. Here are the guest player procedures:

- 1) Follow your state's normal guest player procedures. Whatever your state association rule for permission to guest play, follow local rules. If your state association must approve the players, then carry the proper paperwork with you to each game. If paperwork must be forwarded by the state association, then have it sent to Jim Tilley at 4152 Dietz Farm Cir NW, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87107. If your state association has an open guest player policy, then be sure to comply with all normal requirements.
- 2) Remember that any guest player must be a member of your club and must be age-appropriate. No player may play for more than one team in a day. No player may play for more than one team in the same age/gender group during the season.
- 3) You may use up to 25 players for the FWRL season, but no more than 7 of them may be guest players. Stated differently, you may use 7 guest players for the spring season, but you may use no more than 25 players total.
- 4) For the referees, you must present an 18-player (or less) game roster before the game. The computer game card will suffice. With the new ADG roster system, it is possible to list guest players on the roster through the computer. Details are posted on the FWR League home page. These are the game-eligible players. If you play more than one game in a weekend, the 18 players for game two don't have to be the same 18 players as for game one.
- 5) To stay straight with FWRL rules, email Jim at jim.tilley@regioniv.com your Guest Player Roster Form the day prior to when a guest player plays. You can only use 25 players (or less) for the whole season as explained in #3. If, for example, you are going to use one guest player for the first weekend of games, but three new ones later in the season, then e-mail the one name one day prior to the first game, and a list of all four (the first one plus the three new ones) on the day before the next set of games. We need a running list of all the guest players you have used for the season, and we'll check them against game cards.
- 6) Please use the Excel spreadsheet on the home page of the FWR League to list your guest players. We try to make e-mail the basis of FWRL communication, so please make sure to send the Roster Form to jim.tilley@regioniv.com.
- 7) It is highly desirable to use the ADG system to add guest players to your game roster, but it is possible to handwrite them in. Cross off regularly rostered players from your computer-generated game roster that will not play and add (legibly) your guest players to the bottom of your regular roster. However to avoid confusion and to simplify game tracking for referees, we very strongly encourage you to enter your guest players into the computer as explained on the FWR league home page under Guest Player Rules and Roster Procedure.
